Gentlemen and Mrs. Schmidt:

The National Flood Insurance Program was established under the Housing and Urban Development Act of 1968 to make limited amounts of flood insurance, which was previously unavailable from private insurers, available to property owners by means of a federal subsidy.

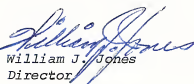

Insurance, at subsidized premium rates, may be purchased for existing properties anywhere in the community and for new construction outside the area of special flood hazards. Insurance at the subsidized rate may be purchased in amounts up to $17,500.00 for single family homes and up to $30,000.00 for two to four family homes and small businesses.

The "RESOLUTION CONCERNING CONSTRUCTION IN AREAS OF THE CITY IN WHICH THERE IS DANGER OF FLOODING" will qualify the City of Fort Wayne, under the Emergency Program for Flood Insurance. The resolution describes the means by which the Building Commissioner will review future applications for building permits in those areas that are flood prone.

At the present time adequate information is not available for the adoption of a Flood Plain Ordinance; however, the Army Corps of Engineers is conducting a study that will give us information that will provide a basis for a Flood Plan Ordinance by means of actual elevations and delineating those areas prone to the 100 Year Flood. When that information is available Flood Plain Zoning will be designed and recommended to the Council for adoption.

Respectfully submitted,

Attached hereto is a copy of a resolution pertaining to one (1) zoning ordinance amendment acted upon by the City Plan Commission at their regular meeting held November 27, 1972. - b. Plan Commission Recommendation: DO NOT PASS

Gentlemen and Mrs. Schmidt:

Attached hereto is a copy of a resolution pertaining to one (1) zoning ordinance amendment acted upon by the City Plan Commission at their regular meeting held November 27, 1972. In addition to the reasons outlined in the resolution, the following are additional remarks pertaining to the ordinance involved:

1. Bill No. Z-72-11-06

- a. Intended Use: Condominium
- b. Plan Commission Recommendation: Perfect to an "RA" and DO PASS

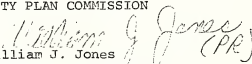

This ordinance received a perfection to an "RA" and DO PASS recommendation for the following reasons:

- 1. The "R3" zoning classification would not be a compatible zoning classification because of existing "RA" zoning located to the west and east of this petitioned change.
- 2. The "RA" zoning classification would be more desirable by providing review by the Plan Commission and insure residential property owners in the area a means of input through the Plan Commission.

If there are any questions with regard to this ordinance, please feel free to call on us.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
DECEMBER 12, 1972

PRESIDENT OF CITY COUNCIL ANNUAL REPORT

Outgoing Fort Wayne City Council President John Nuckols today lauded the countless accomplishments of the 1972 Common Council and hailed the governmental body as "the most productive local legislature in the history of the City."

The Council President reviewed the year's Council activities, which he said were more than double those of past years, and cited what he thought were the most major bills passed.

Nuckols, who himself was the sole holdover councilman following last year's City elections, said the key to Council's productivity was the vigor and the openness of the councilmen.

"We were far from unified on every issue," Nuckols explained, "and we had our fair share of councilmanic fights and legislative controversies. No were we a rubber stamp for the City Administration. But we were open and receptive to all new ideas and to all our citizens who turned to us for help."

MADE A MATTER OF RECORD
DATE 12/12 CHARLES W. WESTERMAN, CITY CLERK

Nuckols in January began serving his fourth consecutive term as representative of the First District, and became the first black to ever hold the seat of President of the Common Council.

In reviewing the year, Nuckols stressed 18 pieces of legislation passed by Council as among the most important moves of 1972:

-- The decision made in January to hold at least six Council sessions in public schools in the six councilmanic districts, "taking the government to the people."

-- The approval of the Administration's Memorandum of Understanding with the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development, a key document in the request for recertification of the City's Workable Program for Community Improvement.

-- The approval of an application to the federal government via the Intergovernmental Personnel Act requesting funding support for three personnel specialists to construct a Model Public Personnel Program in the City, and "to establish sound policies, procedures, and practices in the hiring and firing of public employees."

-- The request that the Region II Criminal Justice Planning Agency petition the state government to build a Regional Comprehensive Correction Center in Fort Wayne, and to include in the center a holding facility to replace the antiquated Allen County Jail.

-- The passage of a six-month ban on construction of gasoline stations in Fort Wayne, and the mandate to the Board of Public Works and the Plan Commission to create criteria whereby such permits could be granted, as well as recommendations to encourage the utilization of abandoned filling stations.

-- The authorization for the Board of Public Works to seek an electric rate increase from the Public Service Commission of Indiana, in an effort to restore the utility to the break even point.

-- The approval of repairs to the Hurshtown Reservoir, which sprung a leak 18 months ago and endangered the surrounding area, as well as endangering the water supply of the City.

-- The pledge to pass flood plain zoning for the City as soon as the Board of Public Works, County Surveyor, and Army Corps of Engineers recommend flood plain areas, in order to qualify countless residents for federally underwritten insurance.

-- The passage of strict controls over weeds, noxious plants and rank vegetation, to be implemented by the Board of Public Health and the Department of Public Parks, rather than the police department, and including fines to be levied against property owners who won't control weeds, and liens to recover City costs when the City is forced to control weed growth.

-- The passage of a comprehensive Fire Prevention Code as recommended by the American Insurance Association.

-- The approval of the Fort Wayne, New Haven, and Allen County Area Transportation Study, and its inclusion, via Municipal Code revamping, into the Master Plan for the City of Fort Wayne.

-- The abolition of the Metropolitan Human Relations Commission, and the replacement of the commission by a smaller agency with increased powers and scope, more representative of the diverse population segments in the City.

-- The endorsement of the development of a Community Coordinated Child Care program for the City.

-- The approval of the City's Workable Plan for Community Improvement, a two-year projection for code enforcement, planning, programming, housing, relocation, and citizen involvement.

-- The mandate to the Board of Public Works to submit specifications to Council for a Community Antenna Television (CATV) system for the city, and the order to the Board to hold public hearings for community involvement.

-- The approval of the City's $1.5 million Neighborhood Development Program to renew blighted areas of the inner city.

-- The approval of the application for a federal 701 Planning Grant to fund preparations for the reconstruction of the environment in Fort Wayne.

-- The approval of the application for an Open Spaces Land Grant to upgrade four parks in the City.

-- The early repeal of the "oppressive" curfew law, which was passed in the summer of 1971 over the vehement objections of Nuckols, and which was designed almost exclusively to affect only inner city residents.

While not needing formal Council approval, the application of the Fort Wayne Housing Authority to HUD for funding of a low-income, high rise apartment complex for the elderly along Harmar Street was cited by Nuckols as an outstanding accomplishment, brought to the initial stages of fruition only through the vigorous backing of both the administration and various councilmen.

The Council then adjourned.
